Man Jailed In Salinas Proves to be Wanted Here

Carmel's bandit is in jail at Salinas and the long search is over. He was nabbed at the county seat and charged with robbing a number of homes there. A warrant issued here, alleging the theft of a diamond ring from a local resident, stands against the man if the Salinas charges are not proved.

George Lundy, a young man who was a dish-washer in a Carmel restaurant and occasionally secured jobs at house-cleaning, has been under suspicion for petty theft for some time. Loss of a suitcase taken from the car of a Berkeley visitor several months ago, and later found looted and hidden in Hatton Fields, was attributed to his industry, although it could not be proved against him. Then came the report of the disappearance of a diamond ring from a house on North Monte Verde street where Lundy had worked for a day.

Careful watch by the Carmel police resulted in the discovery that the diamond from the ring had been sold to a local jeweler, and another shop had been offered sale of the ring by a man whose description tallied with that of Lundy. A warrant was then secured by Chief of Police Gus England, but when he tried to serve it, he found that Lundy had fled the town.

The warrant was turned over to Sheriff Carl Abbott, and he and his deputies have been making a careful search for the wanted man. But it was because of new depredations in Salinas that Lundy was apprehended. Robberies there brought about his arrest, and it was only after he was jailed that identification was made as Carmel's alleged bandit. He will be tried first in Salinas.

SEA SERPENT EXPECTED TO PAY CARMEL A VISIT

Any moment now Carmel may expect to see the expedition looking for Amy the sea serpent that has led marine experts at Seattle to fit out a ship full of camera men and scientists and seek the reported monster. Time and again mariners have told of seeing a mysterious, huge creature off Puget Sound and newspapermen decided to get the low down on the whole affair.

But they haven't found Amy. Neither did the Long Beach people when they went looking offshore for another Amy, and yet ever since then it has been rumored that Amy was in Carmel shortly afterward. What ho! Amy the sea serpent?

FIRE CHIEF ORDERS JOHN REED CLUB PADLOCKED

To prevent the possibility of fire and panic in the John Reed Club rooms until proper exits are provided, M. J. Murphy, Inc., has padlocked the building on Junipero between 4th and 5th at the request of Robert G. Leidig, chief of the Carmel fire department and head of the Bureau of Fire Prevention.

Leidig has been inspecting the town by sections, and when going through the area that included the barn-loft meeting place of the John Reed Club discovered lack of exit arrangements and wrote to owner Murphy that he must prohibit its use for meetings, until proper changes were made.

"It isn't even necessary to have a fire to start a jam," said Leidig in his letter. "Collect a crowd in a wooden building, without sufficient exits and you have all the necessary elements for a panic."

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETINGS OF GENERAL INTEREST

The current history section of the Carmel Woman's Club will have an interesting meeting on November 8, when Miss Elizabeth Armstrong will tell of modern Cuba, a subject on which she is particularly qualified to speak. The public is invited.

Recently the garden section of the club met at Ann Grant's home in Hatton Fields, looked over the beautiful garden and listened to a talk by Mrs. George Beardsley on the gardens of the Hawaiian Islands.

DISTURBANCE OF PEACE COSTS TWENTY DOLLARS

Denying Defense Attorney F. P. Feliz' lengthy plea for a new trial or a stay of judgment in the case of Mrs. Edna Kendall, Carmel housekeeper residing at Santa Fe and Second, who was arrested Friday, the Thirteenth, on a complaint of disturbing the peace sworn to by George W. Belo, a neighbor, Judge Wood found her guilty and set the sentence as twenty dollars or ten days in jail. Notice of appeal was given and Judge Wood allowed the defense until November 1 to perfect the appeal.

FIRE DANGER IS TOLD BY RANGER F. A. MOORE

Forest Ranger Frank A. Moore, in charge of this part of Monterey county, warns that now is the greatest danger of fire of the whole year. Rains have not begun and the humidity is low, and with grass and leaves as dry as powder it will take but one cigarette to start a dangerous blaze.

"Week end tourists are careless now," said Moore, "and think that the fire season is over. It certainly is not, and we urge that all caution be taken with campfires, throwing burning cigarettes from cars and all other sources of trouble. We have had good cooperation this year, and with help from now until the first rains we shall get through in good shape."

In case of fire outside city limits notify Moore at Carmel 227, and if this cannot be done get in touch with your nearest fire department.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS OF CHICAGO FAIR

The current history section of the Carmel Woman's club held its second meeting Wednesday in the Scout house. Twenty-four ladies enjoyed a most interesting program.

Mrs. C. M. Lowell gave an appreciation of the scientific value of the Chicago Fair while Miss Ruth Huntington emphasized the beauty of the exposition with colorful pictures and vivid descriptions.

Mrs. H. S. Nye told of the opportunities Chicago itself offered tourists including symphonies, movies, theatres, etc., of which she took advantage.

"And the Goblins'll Get You If You Don't Watch Out"

Here comes Hallowe'en again, and the quaint old custom of trying to outrun irate householders and dodge the police will once more be active among us. One thing tough on the young hellions is that their elders have done a bit of rowdy-dow in their time and can plan ahead to safeguard their furniture and fences, and another is that the Carmel police will be increased by twenty deputies for Tuesday's deviltry, and don't say you didn't know it when you're stinging from shotgun salt or writhing in the grip of the law.

Turning to the hallowed past for Hallowe'en in Carmel the first volume of the Pine Cone, Monarch of the Weeklies, finds on its front page dated November 3, 1915, the headline "A Mild Hallowe'en."

"Hallowe'en is o'er. We all breathe easy again. The boys' pranks this year were safe, sane and conservative. A few missing gates, some soaped store windows, and a loosed horse or two is about the extent of the mischief done."

Since then the story has not always been so cheerful, and lads have been in brisk jams for some time as a result. Once a statue in the front yard of a South San Carlos Boulevard home was kidnapped, and it took action before a Superior Court judge in Salinas to clear the affair up. Again it was a rain of rocks on roofs, and when the ruckus was over there were some wiser boys who owned aching bodies. Did 'em good said their snorting captors. And from the quiet the next year it certainly did.

The Carmel Yacht Club yacht, in its cradle atop the Club garage, was once the target of trouble that aimed at outright theft, but Commodore Allen, (Stormy) Knight was all set for them and repelling boarders was the order of the hour. Never tamper with an old sailor's home, m' hearties!

Don't grease the street car tracks and don't steal buggies. Don't fire skyrockets in the post-office and don't crash in on rehearsals at the theatre. Don't scuttle a fishing boat and don't tip over the bath house.

Confidentially, on Tuesday night when in doubt—don't do it!

Everywhere we hear it! Hallowe'en's next Tuesday night! Whose party are you going to?

The witches will be flying, the spooks slithering, the jackolanterns grinning, and all over town people of all ages will be celebrating. Local merchants, too, are set for a landoffice business these next two days, and are replete with stocks of all the various things that make Hallowe'en the night of the year for people that like to be kids again.

RED CROSS FUNDS FOR USE AT HOME

Questions have been asked as to how much of the money required to provide the budget for the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross goes to the National Red Cross at Washington. We are informed that the sum which would have to be sent to Washington on a budget of $3,000 would approximate $165. The balance of over $2800 would be used entirely for local purposes.

This $165 represents only about 5 1-2 per cent of the amount of the budget, and it must be remembered that the National Red Cross has to rely on the members of its thousands of chapters throughout the country to provide funds to meet without delay the dire necessities of those deprived of practically everything in national or international disasters.

In the case of the recent earthquake disaster in Southern California, the National Red Cross immediately forwarded $100,000 for relief.

"ART AND MRS. BOTTLE" OPENS AT PLAYHOUSE

This week-end Carmel is afforded another excellent offering by the Golden Bough Players at the Carmel Community Playhouse. "Art and Mrs. Bottle" produced by Edward Gosland Kuster, is a satire by Benn Levy on the conflict between art and comerce, and comes to the Carmel stage after two showings in Watsonville and Salinas. It opened last night, and is ready for the most discriminating of playgoers.

In the lead is Georgia Wapple, playing Celia Bottle with subtle interpretation and intensely alive manner that matches wit with sophistication; this is the role created by Irene Vanbrough in London and by Jane Cowl in New York. Yvonne Castle as Judy Bottle personifies the intensity of being young and in love and is thoroughly charming as an artist, this being the character played by Katherine Hepburn in the east.

Philip Remer, as Michael, Judy's artist brother, won his audience with a stutter, and held them capably as he lost his illusions and gained a new set of values. Edwina Pinkham, as the delightful little art model, Sonia, does a characterization that brings repeated applause, and Arthur Hately, the artist-roue, is humorously convincing as he adds the undercurrent of turmoil to the lives of the Bottle family. Albert Van Houtte, the pompous, slow-witted and very English George Bottle, proves a perfect foil for the light and witty lines of Celia and Max. Tom Crosthwaite, the rejected suitor, Charles Dawes, is irresistible in his serious portrayal of the lad.

Popular priced tickets for this high comedy for tonight and tomorrow are on sale at the booth across from the postoffice.

NO BREECHES FOR CARMEL GOLFERS SAYS AUTHORITY

Declaring that Carmel golfers must get in line with the rest of the world next year when style authorities do away with breeches on the links, M. Jacques Dupont, international index to what the well dressed man shall wear, told interviewers at Del Monte Hotel this week what they might expect at coming golf matches.

He hastened to add that long pants would replace breeches, and that the leg would be full, while the cuff would be snug at exactly shoe-top height.

INTERESTING CAFE OPENS IN MONTEREY

The famed Lido Cafe of Paris, France, has been brought to Monterey Peninsula with the opening of the Lido Cafe at the intersection of the Castroville and Salinas highways.

The entire building has been redecorated, and the chef is one with a widespread reputation for his ability in preparing French and Italian foods in the old world manner, according to the owner.

The new cafe will cater to the better Bohemian element of people. That is to say those who appreciate the European way of doing things. Those who go to the Lido may expect life and laughter, but not the raucous blatter of those who do not know how to eat like gentlemen.

GAYNOR AND BAXTER TRIUMPH IN "PADDY"

By J. A. Kunstman

Janet Gaynor has never shown her talents to better advantage than in her newest starring vehicle, "Paddy, the Next Best Thing" in which she is co-starred with Warner Baxter at the Carmel Theater.

Cast as a little Irish lass whose sole fault is in her ability to tell white lies, a quality that eventually embroils her in all sorts of entanglements, she performs in her usual charming manner. Warner Baxter, as the scion of the Irish coastal town in which "Paddy" takes place, does an excellent piece of acting a typically romantic Warner Baxter role.

The members of the cast including Margaret Lindsay, who will be remembered as the "Titanic" girl in "Cavalcade" and Walter Connolly, famous performer from the New York stage, all do their utmost to make "Paddy" an enjoyable screen work.

Harry Lachman, who directed many film successes abroad has done his best work with "Paddy" which is set against as beautiful pictorial background as has been viewed in many months, most of the outdoor scenes were taken on our own Monterey Peninsula at Point Lobos.

"Paddy, The Next Best Thing" opens at the Carmel Theater Sunday for two days only, October 29th and 30th, Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. J. W. Claywell spent several days ni San Francisco this week.

IS THAT SO?

By Winsor Josselyn

Sharpshooters are valuable in peacetime as well as wartime. Garden hose manufacturers, unknown to the public at large, maintain a large staff of crack shots to shoot a hole through a length of rubber and change it from a solid piece to a tube. Accuracy cannot be expected beyond fifty feet, and that is why you cannot buy greater lengths.

Pencils are being chewed more than ever these nervous days. A pencil with the top end made of taffy would be a boon to the nation.

Old time bicycle riders are all upset about modern cyclists and the way they pedal on their insteps. Under the toe, they insist, is the place for the pedal and not under the arch. Next time you see a veteran watching a cyclist, ask him about it and stand back for the fireworks.

Here's one reason why tourists upset Carmel. Or maybe Shirley isn't a tourist, but anyhow here is what Shirley left in a library book.

"To Whom It May Concern—

"Shirley is enjoying the sunshine at the beach. Won't you join her, please. At the usual place—3:30 p. m."

Chorus from the reporters: Where is the usual place?

Leon Narvaez wants it understood that he is not selling his famous bicycle. Rumors had it that because of the lack of novelty in trick bicycle riding nowadays Leon would retire from the stage and offer his famous gold plated mount for sale. He is only putting it in cosmoline until the public again takes interest in stage stunts instead of seeing scenes free on the streets.

His Dip of Death where he shot down a runway and looped-the-loop as roman candles spouted fire and pinwheels showered flame is only too fresh in the public mind to need repeating here. Mr. Narvaez is merely taking a rest.

Chalk up another Carmel-is-different item. We have three drug stores and yet in neither Staniford's, Dolores Pharmacy nor the Carmel Drug can soda or ice cream bebought.

"What other town having three such stores," asks observant Ralph Todd, "can boast such a record?"

Master Dickie, aged four, has heard a lot about Canada through his father who is working on public improvements up there, and he knows its general direction from Carmel. Furthermore, his ambition is to go to Canada and build roads, the roads being reported pretty awful in places.

Questioned on the idea, he waved his hand to the north and even got to the point of naming the place in Canada where he would begin. "Yep," he said, nodding with conviction, "it's Salinas."

Inventors are forever helping busy humanity. One has now made it easy for commutors to shine their shoes as they dress in the morning. All that is necessary is to put on the shoes before the trousers, then the trouser legs, being lined with shoe brushes will shine the shoes as they pass through.

Children in Carmel know what to do when they are lost. They go tell Gus England their name and where they live and everything will be jake. An uncle was rehearsing his niece on the subject and she came through with passing marks save at the very end.

"If I get lost," she said, "I'll tell Gus Englund. "Or," she added, putting her hand in her uncle's, "I'll tell you."

HOW TO RIDE YOUR BICYCLE—IN 1903

With the present day revival of bicycling in Carmel it is the privilege of this paper to print a set of cycling rules that were in force when the bicycle was king some thirty years ago.

Don't try to raise your hat to a lady passing you until you have become master of your wheel.

Don't wear red or gay-colored clothing thinking it is stylish.

Don't laugh at beginners—you may look worse.

Don't ride fast down a steep hill with a curve at its foot.

Don't ride fifteen miles at a scorching pace and then drink copiously of water and lie down on the cold grass.

Don't carry your bicycle upstairs under your arm, but carry it on your shoulder.

Don't leave your wheel in a dark hall for people to fall over.

IN THE STUDIOS

Charles and Helen Van Riper and son Tony, are at home again on The Point after spending the summer on Martha's Vineyard, and one of the first questions fired at Charlie was about the prospects of the Abalone Ball League in its next series. The name Van Riper and Abalone League are just like that.

"Can't say," said the bashaw with a grin. "And speaking of baseball, I didn't even see the world's series although I was in New York at the time.

"Business kept me on the jump, and as for seeing plays, what between other things to do and the season not being really under way yet,I didn't get in anything to speak of there, either. But let me tell you about the Island."

Martha's Vineyard, right out there in the Atlantic Ocean beneath the hook of Cape Cod, seems to be relatively little known by trippers, and only after a number of seasons does a person get speaking acquaintance with the hardshell New England seafarers who are most of its inhabitants.

"Odd thing," he went on, "that although the Island is triangular, they speak of it as having only a north and south shore. Its name? Well perhaps it's corruption of a family name of bygone days, or perhaps because of the wild grapes of the region. Another unexplained thing is the presence of great stones, and some say they were monuments left by Norse explorers."

New England in all its rock-bound hardihood, including solid houses and conservative outlook and howling storms. "Once we had rain for four solid days, but the house had it on some of the early Carmel houses and we could sleep in the beds instead of shoving the piano under the one dry spot and putting the mattress there for the night."

Jo Mora left this week for a hurried journey east, where he will visit his brother Luis in New York. Jo has just completed a series of drawings for an advertising campaign for Hotel Del Monte, and it is said that the work is remarkable in its conception and execution, and will give a new line in advertising copy.

Photographs by Johan Hagemeyer have been on exhibition this month at the De Young Museum, San Francisco, and have received fine notice by the art critics. According to the Wasp-Newsletter, Hagemeyer is a Hollander who "was formerly engaged in business, but became interested in the science of fruit growing, and in the course of developing this hobby, came to California and lived on a fruit ranch. He made experiments in camera craft met the famous Alfred Stieglitz, master photographer, and thereafter devoted himself to the art. Without subscribing to any theory of technique Hagemeyer has created an individual manner of expressing his ideas and viewpoints."

Mr. W. James was in San Francisco on business this week.

SUNSET SCHOOL NEWS

By Lee Van Atta, Roger Fulton, and Eugenia Fulton.

Mr. J. Burg has donated twenty black acacia trees for a border along Mission Street. The trees are about six feet tall. Carmel workmen planted these on Monday and Tuesday of last week. Mr. Burge says they will grow rapidly.

At an Executive Board meeting about three weeks ago a "garden committee" was formed. The officers are as follows: Pres., Billie Wheeler. Members: Roger Fulton, Eugenia Fulton and Joyce Uzzell. This committee has many plans for future planting in Sunset School.

Two other committees were formed, the "clean-up" and "investigation" committees. The officers are: President Lee Van Atta, vice president; Geraldine Kerner; Secretary Roger Fulton. The members are: Norris Thompson, Maurice Foland, John Tait, Jane Ellen Parker, Jerry Niekirk, Harold Johnson, Emma Ann Wishart, Helen Wetzel and Jimmie Welsh.

Last Thursday the pupils of Sunset were entertained by having Jimmie Dickie of "The Oakland Tribune" give a talk on cartooning. Mr. Dickie talked on how the great cartoonists cartoon. He ended by drawing a picture of his dog Scotty.

The Eighth grade on Friday last presented "The Vision of Sir Launfal" by Ralph W. Emerson. Under the supervision of Mr. Hale and Miss Baer the play went off finely. Sir Launfal was played by Dick Tevis. Many parents and friends attended.

Mrs. May Montmorency nas charge of the Library Club. This club meets Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30. It has a collection of 500 popular books for boys and girls.

The annual Red Cross Drive is on in Sunset. Doris Crossman is chairman and thinks the School year will be very successful so far as the Red Cross is concerned.

DALTON WINS AGAINST TEVIS IN SALINAS BOUT

Frank Dalton, of Carmel, fighting at 141 pounds, won a decision in his three-round bout against Howard Tevis, 145 pounds, in the Salinas Auditorium last week. Dalton has been doing well in his recent fights, and experts predict that if he is brought along slowly and trained properly he has a promising future in the ring.

MISCHA ELMAN TO OPEN MUSIC SOCIETY SERIES

Mischa Elman, the violinist, whose playing has created a sensation on three continents, opens the 1933-34 Winter Series of the Carmel Music Society next Tuesday evening, in the SunsetSchool Auditorium at eight-thirty o'clock.

Reverberations of Mr. Elman's great success in the San Francisco Opera House last Wednesday evening are still reaching us. "Finer than ever," "Unexcelled tone," "The greatest of fiddle-playing and such enthusiastic comments have come from this one and that one who heard the San Francisco concert. Redfern Mason of the San Francisco Examiner writes, "...the attendance proved that the depression cannot keep the public away from an artist who has won their esteem....He played that lovely andante as if he had been a prima donna. To say that is no derogation, because the human voice is the greatest of all instruments, and the violin is at its best when it most resembles it...."

Before the public seat sale opened last Monday morning, many reservations had come in from out-of-town points, and the Board of the Music Society has been kept busier than ever before with the season ticket sale. The music-lover who has not yet secured his seats had best go in at once to the Denny-Watrous gallery and get the best seat that is left.

The following program, the same as was played in San Francisco and Los Angeles, will be played on Tuesday, with Sanford Schlussel at the piano.

Handell, Sonata in A Major

Mozart, Sonata in B flat major, No. 15.

Glazounow, Concert in A minor

Faure-Elman, Apres un Reve

Nin, Sur un air de danse de Pablo Esteve.

Chopin-Wilhelmj, Nocturne.

Brahms - Joachim, Hungarian Dance in A major.

Vieuxtemps, Ballade and Polonaise.

THE STAHL MOTOR CO. CARRIES STUDEBAKERS

Into Carmel one afternoon in 1911 sputtered a little blue touring car with a metal sign "Flanders 20" on its radiator. It was a snappy little bus put out by Studebaker and had blown a spark plug in the long pull over Carmel Hill. But in the whole hamlet there was no spark plug, nor in Monterey, and over the phone San Jose said it would send one down by mail.

Today, it is different. You can buy not only a spark plug but a whole Studebaker car, and the Mathew Stahl Motor Company, which has just opened an agency on San Carlos street, announces that it will carry an entire line of those new models.

The Startling New

STUDEBAKERS OF 1934

Sensationally designed! Sensationally priced! $645

AND UP, AT THE FACTORY.

STUDEBAKER is presenting the lowest priced fine cars in American motoring history in these startling new Studebakers of 1934!

Studebaker has stepped down into new fields of low price and stepped up traditional Studebaker quality in so doing.

The armor-plated bodies of these new Studebakers of 1934 are sensational in their beauty, strength and quiet. They go farther than any standard production bodies in the world in approximating the air-curve symmetry of the latest giant speed planes.

Appealing outside, they're utterly alluring when you open the doors . . . with capacious seats, luxurious tailored upholstery and the finest fittings ever provided in cars so low priced. A new ventilating system assures real comfort—allows opening of windshield.

These new Studebakers have that stamina and brilliance of performance which enabled five 85% stock Studebakers to finish among the first twelve in the great Indianapolis Speedway race on May 30 last—and to go through that entire contest without a single adjustment or repair!

They have uncanny "mechanical brains" that make driving almost entirely automatic.

The test of driving will fully convince you that no car you can buy is nearly as good a "buy" as these startling new low-priced Studebakers. The new Dictator Six is $645. The new Commander Eight is $845. The new President Eight is $1045!

Come in today and take out one of these new Studebakers of 1934 for a convincing trial drive.

THE DICTATOR as low as $645
THE COMMANDER as low as $845
THE PRESIDENT as low as $1045

Prices at the factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra

Continuance of these amazing low introductory prices is not assured. Now is the time to take advantage of them before possible revision upward is made necessary by higher costs of materials.

BYINGTON FORD TAKES THE CARMEL REALTY CO.

Combining two of the best known names in Carmel real estate circles, the Carmel Realty Company and Byington Ford merged this week with offices to be continued in the Las Tiendas building.

It is particularly fitting that the work cut short by the untimely death of Ray DeYoe should be carried on by a man with the same spirit of progressive foresight that characterized DeYoe long activity in the region, and that DeYoe's clients should know that their interests will be attended to with the same faithful integrity by Mr. Ford.

Since pioneering days this town has been fortunate in having real estate dealers who kept Carmel ideals uppermost in community development, and their faith has been amply justified by the Carmel of today. It may be as fully expected that the Carmel of the future, with existence of such confidence and farsightedness, will be just as consistently brought along as the Carmel we now know.

Mr. Ford has resided in the region for several years and before concentrating his interests in Carmel some time ago was general manager of real estate for the Del Monte Properties Company. He is thoroughly identified with the Peninsula and intimately in touch with its needs and possibilities, and the fusion of his company at this time with the Carmel Realty Company is a move to be congratulated.

REXALL ONE-CENT SALE IS ON AT STANIFORD'S

The power of the penny has the drive that used to belong to the dollar, or at least so it seems at the One-Cent sale featured in Staniford's Drug Store this week. Member of the Rexall group, this store is bringing pennies out in regiments, divisions, armies—and the sale demonstrates once more the value of wide advertising.

William P. Silva, noted artist, residing on Carmelo, spent the last week-end in Palo Alto where he was guest of honor at a reception.

Did you know that a roof of Cedar shingles nailed with pure iron nails would last from 50 to 75 years and sometimes longer than that?

Few people realize why the roof of their grandmothers home outlasted several modern roofs. That is the reason, and the only reason. The cost of such a roof is very moderate. We should be pleased to submit an estimate for your job.

Support The Red Cross

Facing the grave prospect of a winter with needs as great as ever, and facilities for help lessened, the Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross shortly starts a campaign to raise $3000 for the care of the poor and of the unemployed of the village. The people of Carmel must get behind this drive, for the Red Cross will be practically alone as protectors of the unemployed. The committee which has had charge of this need has closed its books and been dissolved.

That there will be as great necessity this winter as last is apparent now. Last to feel the depression in its seriousness, Carmel will not bethefirst out of the slump. We are going to help a large number of indigent to keep alive during the waiting months of gradually bettering conditions. Those who have a bit more than just enough to get by must share with those who have nothing. And the Red Cross is organized and perfected in the means of a wise use of the funds that will be required.

Give to the local Red Cross Chapter in full confidence that its first consideration will be Carmel's charitable needs. The money raised here will be used at home. And it will be handled by our own Carmel people.

New Hair-Cut Styles

Organizations that have been using the N.R.A. campaign of the Blue Eagle to increase prices are rapidly discovering that conditions do not warrant the advances made, and they are no better off than before, if as well off. The 65 cent hair-cut is an instance of over-enthusiasm. Just how the boost in price of a hair-cut from fifty cents to sixty-five was to benefit the country at large was not explained, but the barbers expected that it would benefit themselves. Not so.

Hair grew longer, that's all. Men who made a habit of visiting the barber for a hair-trim every ten days or so, waited a month. The monthly barbering was extended another thirty days. Styles in hair are changing from the close crop of yesterday to the long locks of tomorrow. That extra fifteen cents to the scissors-man, like the one-cent raise in postage stamps, has hurt receipts, not helped them.

The printers' combine is another case of mistaken confidence. With the Blue Eagle as its excuse, the job shops of the county boosted prices considerably. Then a solicitor for a Los Angeles printshop blew into town an dtook a bit of local business down to the southland. Other merchants here sent their printing to San Francisco where the combine prices weren't working. The Pine Cone job shop was opened, and outside the trust. A combine shop withdrew from the organization. It was all over.

Now comes the Retail Store Code, approved by Washington, and it fixes the minimum prices at cost. The expectation of a ten-per-cent added over cost was kliled by the President himself. Conditions do not warrant the immediate boosting of prices generally. The consumer must still be considered as of greater importance than the producer, and the old, old law of supply and demand must regulate the selling price.

Against Gods

The shining laureled gods
Scorn us in their mirth.
I am a strong tree risen
Straight from the earth.

I will defy the gods
Afront them in their prattle
Cleanly in my pride
Straight into battle.

My shout has split the dark
Like a peacock's cry
My heel a brand of fire
Now I can die!

Hospitality

Sweet guest I bid you welcome, for you bring
The kindliness of friendship to my home.
Take off your outer garments, sit you down;
Draw up around the blazing chimney stone.

Do you bring news? Eager I am to hear it.
Of joy? My laughter's equal to your own.
Of Sorrow? Lay your heart upon my bosom,
And feel no more my friend, that you're alone.

Do you bring funds of sparkling conversation?
Hungry my ears for stories new and old—
But if the silver of our speech be lacking,
Forget not friend, that silence may be gold.

Fill up your pipe if that should be your fancy
And we'll discourse of travel; if you'd roam
Be but yourself my friend, and let your visit
Seem to your heart to be but coming home.

—Frederick O. Bigland

Fall Hints

Get your bulbs in the ground before the first rains. It is the time of the year to prepare the ground and plant tulips, daffodils, freesias, hyacinths, renumcullis, crocuses and the rest. To make Carmel bloom next spring, work before the rains.

There are still Carmel Dollars to be cleared away, and the only sure method of doing it is to keep them moving. When paying bills or buying for cash, be sure to have a few of the Carmel Dollars in the transaction. Merchants still accept them readily.

The second premiere of a play by a local author given here this season is evidence of the fecundity of our playwrights under encouragement. The opportunity to see just what one has written into his drama—or missed getting into it—is very valuable, and our producers and actors are doing real service to the arts. Let's have more original plays.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

The name Sheridan in Carmel stands for the stage. But now you've got to specify which Sheridan, for Frank is no longer the sole dramatic member. John, redheaded and fifteen and in high school, had a good part in Dick Masten's "The Devil Who Saw God."

Frank began at the age of twelve. But now comes the revelation from Sheridan family history that John, also at the age of twelve, started in his acting career, only his was in the picture, "Huckleberry Finn." "Yes," said Frank, "And the boy got more for his first day's work than I did for my first week's."

Score another beat for John in this creation of a character in Masten's play. Frank had to wait until he was seventeen before he had opportunity of doing an original part fresh from the playwright's pen.

John was questioned about this one afternoon. He grinned and answered, "We've got a swell baseball team coming up at high school, and fi Carmel comes over to root for us we'll clean up the series." When Frank was asked what it was all about, he too, used baseball terms. "The boy has a good change of pace, don't you get it?"

And away went the Sheridan boys or men, up the Carmel rialto.

The exhibit of photographs by Edward Weston at Chicago's exposition has attracted much favorable notice by critics and press, more even than some of the best of the color shows there. Columns of space in the newspapers have been given it, and the adjectives "marvelous" and "wonderful" have been hard worked.

In the Tribune, Eleanor Jewett, art critic says: "Modern Painters should beware lest much of their thunder be stolen while they think themselves secure, when such wizards with a camera as Edward Weston are given a one man show of their prints in a gallery familiarly regarded as the sanctuary of the last word in nonconservative art.

"The Increase Robinson gallery, Diana Court building, has introduced many a new name to Chicago in the few years since its inception. For the first time it is introducing a photographer to Chicago, but when his work is considered soberly Mr. Weston is much more than a clicker of shutters; he is an artist using plates and camera instead of palette and paint box."

Of his landscapes, she says they have "the austere charm of a Ross Moffett or a Rockwell Kent painting. They are aloof, beautiful and hauntingly sad."

The exhibit closed last Saturday.

The October Harper's Bazaar has another of Charles McMorris Purdy's intimate travel tales. "Vienna Is a Waltz" is a charming record of the author's visit to the Austrian capital, and like his previous offerings, mixes the facts with a romantic flavor that gives one the atmosphere of the place perfectly.

Purdy wrote his first novel in Carmel, where he lived some years ago. His mother is still a resident here, living at Pine Inn.

■ ■

Talbert Josselyn, writer of sports fiction for Collier's Weekly, tells of a triple coincidence between fiction and fact. It is well known that a writer finds real people bearing the names of his characters, but rare is it when three separate events in the real person's life coincide with similar things in the fictitious character's life.

Last year Josselyn wrote a football story, and in it the heroine lived in a State University town, went to Europe to study art and returned home to find that the hero needed her help, and that she could give that help through the aid of a relative who was a regent of the University. Shortly after the story was published Josselyn got a letter from Berkeley signed by a girl having exactly the same name as the heroine, and telling of studying art abroad and of having a relative who was a regent, but saying that she was being teased about a football hero in her life, and could the writer please send a letter that she could show her friends to prove that he did not have her in mind when he put the yarn together.

Another of Tal's stories will appear in Collier's Friday October the 27th, entitled "Too Much Wife," and dealing with the most awful of golf handicaps, that of women who walk around the course with their husbands.

Gordon Nelson, the young actor who came here with Moroni Olsen a number of seasons ago and remained to take important parts in local plays, writes from New York that the theatre business is picking up. Part of this is due to a new attitude by the critics.

"The critics seem to have turned over a new leaf this season," he tells Mae Harris Anson of Carmel, "and with one or two exceptions are giving the drama a break. They've realized that by driving the drama into the ground—whether it was good or bad—they were driving the theatre into the ground too. What may have shaken them up was the way movie critics were getting bigger salaries because their departments were becoming more important through a better scheme of criticism.

"The result is that of late a deserving play has been given its just deserts, while before that really good plays have been murdered by smart alecs who were only out to beat one another in belittling every sincere effort made.

"So far the season has been grand. About a dozen of the new plays are doing fair business, some of them sellouts. This for the first hatching of the season is very good. Six are real hits and more shows are coming in soon, a dozen being almost ready now."

Nelson has been doing summer stock both as actor and assistant director, and is now in New York for the autumn season.

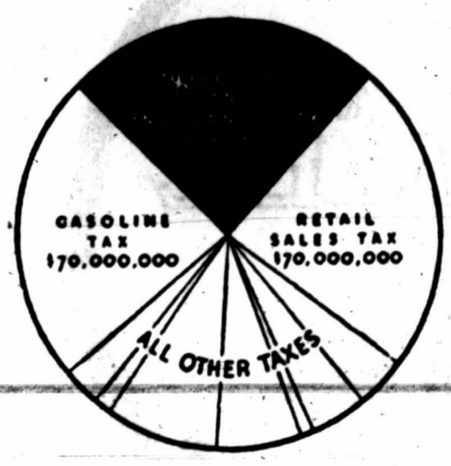
"UTILITY TAXES take State out of the red"

THAT was the headline which many newspapers used for an article sent out in news dispatches from Sacramento on September 20th.

State Controller Ray L. Riley announced that day that payment of Seventeen Million Dollars in taxes by California utilities had given the state's general fund a favorable balance for the first time in many months.

It permitted him to return three million five hundred and fifty thousand dollars which had been borrowed from the highway fund to avoid the registration of general fund warrants.

This is merely one indication of the importance of your utilities to your state.



SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—(LP)—Payment of $17,000,000 in taxes by California utilities resulted in the state's general fund showing a favorable balance for the first time in many months, State Controller Ray L. Riley announced today.
With receipt of the public utility tax payments, Riley immediately ordered return to the highway fund of $3,550,000 borrowed to avoid registration of general fund warrants. This transfer reduced to $3,400,000 the general fund's debt to special funds.

The above refers to the first payment made to the state's general fund for the fiscal year 1933-1934. A second payment will be made in March.

Out of every dollar you pay to Pacific Gas and Electric Company for your electric service, 14.5 cents represents taxes. Of this 14.5 cents, 9 cents goes to the maintenance of your state government.

In the next two years the state's tax income from the utilities and the insurance companies will be $71,847,000. That is nearly 25 per cent of the state's total revenue. It is more than the $70,000,000, or 24 per cent, which is estimated to be obtained from the retail sales tax.

The utilities do their part—and a large part it is—in the support of the California state government.
